<https://eclipsefoods.com/ingredients/> to learn more about their ingredients used!

About the rapeseed oil from the company: While our labels call this by its legal name, you likely know this ingredient as expeller-pressed canola oil. Expeller pressing means the oil is removed from the seed using only a press and never any solvents, additives, or chemicals. We make sure ours is non-GMO. It provides the fat (unsaturated!), richness, and texture needed to make Eclipse perform and taste just like dairy.
